AQUA COOLER CELEBRATES THE UPCOMING MOVE TO THEIR NEW PREMISES

AQUA COOLER, Australia's largest manufacturer of water coolers & industrial chillers, has decided to pack up and move to a brand new location at Chester Hill. The move is a necessary adjustment to facilitate the continuing growth and expansion of the company, as seen throughout the past decade, and will breathe new life into the business, as well as provide a fresh start for the upcoming season.

The much anticipated move looks to take place between late September and early October. Aqua Cooler will also be joined by Gladiator, an upcoming fishing tackle company, another business owned by the Blackmore family.

The new, state-of-the-art facility features a large receiving and dispatch area, and it is expected that once the move is complete, production on a number of product lines will increase significantly.
